Top five tips for readers

1. Love your library

Going to the library is key to finding great books. You will be amazed to see how many books there are out there that you have not yet read.

2. Do not force it - it just does not work!

Private reading should be for pleasure. If you are not enjoying a book after the first chapter or two there is nothing wrong with giving up (unless it is a set class text of course!).

3. Join a Book Club

Reading and discussing books with other enthusiastic readers will help you discover new authors and titles.

4. Keep your own reading list

If you like a book you have read it will help you choose other books. Keeping a list will help you remember your favourites.

5. Create a cosy reading zone

Dedicate a special area for reading and make it nice and cosy, with lots of cushions, a reading light and a special shelf for your books.
